SailMagazine.com says; The Oceanis 45 has been particularly successful, having snagged the prestigious European Sailboat of the Year award in the family cruiser category for 2012. The Oceanis 45 is an attractive, well-conceived cruising boat that should appeal to sailors who like clean modern styling. The large, practical fold-down transom will be particularly seductive to families who like to spend time in the water; it will also find favor with those who put a premium on easy tender access.
